Fashion Week

It's almost as exciting as Christmas in my world right now. Toronto's L'Oreal Fashion week started today and I caught up with Canada's best young coutour designer Mellinda-Mae Harlington.

She debuted her work last season for this fall/winter 2008 and the clothes are beautiful, sleek and fit like a glove. Check out my outfit from Monday's show.

Fashion week also features some of the top jewelery designers including Sally Han whose designs can be see at the MMH fashion show Friday at 6pm.

Throughout the week, you will also see the hottest fashions for spring/summer 2009 from Carlie Wong. If that name sounds familiar it's because she was a competitor on Project Runway Canada. And, jean lovers will want to watch my feature story on what's the most popular style this season and breakdown the newest look for women, "The Boyfriend" jean.

It's going to be a good week!

Kate :)
